MADISON COUNTY

BUDGET SLATED TO BE INCREASED

Supervisors to Open Adjourned Annual Session This Morning

Wampsville—Madison County Board of Supervisors will begin its adjourned annual session this morning at the court house with little idea how much larger the budget will have to be increased to meet necessary relief aids.

With qualifying age of persons for old age relief reduced from 70 to 65 years, there will be a substantially larger amount necessary to be raised. It is also expected the big cost of snow removal will be a factor in the larger assessment against the taxpayers.

Some observers see in higher costs in relief and snow removal a pairing of items for other departments. Supreme Court costs were higher this year than last, but it is believed there will be a reduction in the County Court expenditures as few cases were tried at the three terms.

Snow removal last winter cost $43,137.95. The county keeps both state and county highways clear of snow, with the state reimbursing the county. It is estimated the amount coming from the state will be $70,000, representing one-half the cost up to $140,000.

The bridge building program is expected to be enlarged and the county road construction pared under the 1937 budget.

D. W. Rogers, Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, will call the members to order at 10 A. M., with the afternoon session slated for 1:30. Much of the routine will be disposed of in the first two weeks leaving the last two weeks of the session available for conferences and committee meetings, where budget figures are discussed and allotted.

Wampsville—Audrey Virgo, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Virgo, Casanova-North Woodstock Road, died Saturday in a Syracuse hospital five weeks after she was crushed under the wheels of a farm wagon. She was riding on a garage load when the wagon, driven by Bud Virgo, her brother, crashed over her.

The girl lost her balance and tumbled over the wheels.

A playmate, riding on the same wagon, cried out and the brother stopped the truck. The girl suffered internal injuries, a crushed chest. Peritonitis developed from a ruptured liver.

Oneida Castle Has New Fire Apparatus

Oneida—The Village of Oneida Castle Fire Department put a new $2,200 piece of equipment into use today to replace the 16-year-old chemical and hose truck. The apparatus arrived here Saturday and after it was checked over in a garage by mechanics it was taken to the Castle fire house. A public demonstration will be staged at the Castle in a few days.

Eventually the fire department will repay to the village board the sum of $2,000 advanced for the purchase. A series of benefits will be held to raise money. The old truck was the property of the fire department rather than the village board.

RIENZO QUILTS SPORT POST AT ROME SCHOOL

Founder of American Cheese Factory Plan Honored by Institute

Rome—Amid a contrasting background of leaden skies and colorful colonial costumes, a memorial commemorating America's first cheese factory was unveiled on the factory site near the new fish hatchery yesterday afternoon. The factory was erected in 1851.

More than 2,500 persons, many of them from distant communities, defied the rain and cold weather to attend the ceremonies perpetuating the memory of Jesse Williams, founder of the first cheese factory.

GRANDSONS PARTICIPATE

The memorial, a thick, five-foot granite slab on which was impressed an inscribed bronze tablet, was unveiled by George H. Williams, grandson of Jesse, who lives in the nearby family home, built by the renowned cheese-maker. The living grandsons, Chester A. Williams, Geneva, took part in the ceremonies.

In behalf of the National Cheese Institute, George L. Mooney, secretary, presented the memorial to Edward D. Bevil, secretary, Chamber of Commerce, who accepted it for the Rome Historical Society "and all the people of Rome."

The ceremonies started with a parade of automobiles from the factory house to the site, party of men and women garbed in the quaint costumes of the 1850's, got into an ox-cart, built in 1842 and was driven to the scene by a yoke of oxen.

Unique Costume

In the ox-cart were Mrs. Harry Hayes, Mrs. J. Madison Jackson, Betty Wardwell, Mrs. W. Stanley DeHimer, Nancy Wardwell, Miss Ruth Bishop and Mrs. Donald M. Wells.

Trailing about were Mrs. Leon V. Jones, Miss Edna Miller, Mrs. A. R. Morton, Mrs. Revitt and George and Chester Williams and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Karlen.

The women wore varied-hued hoop skirts, shawls and bonnets while the men wore top hats and gray frock coats and trousers and wore top hats of matching colors.

Several descendants of Jesse Williams witnessed the unveiling as did men prominent in the cheese business. The latter group included J. C. Caterina, Chicago; George Snowden, New York; William Ormiston, Earl Hillman and John Ormiston, Syracuse; and Stephen Spence, J. S. Plesner and Byron Musica, Little Falls.

On display near the memorial was a press built by Artemus Waterman, Brotherton, about 1835. The ceremonies marked the opening of the fourth annual National Cheese Week. A huge wheel of native New York cheddar cheese, gift of Lewis County, is to be sent to Governor Lehman as part of the week's observance.

PASTOR CLAIMS WAR IS ALMOST SURE TO COME

PASTOR CLAIMS WAR IS ALMOST SURE TO COME

Task of Averting Conflict Seemingly Hopeless

Rome—Another world war "is not only a possibility, but almost certain to come unless something can be done to change the course of events," a seemingly hopeless task, the Rev. Alvin C. Goddard, pastor of the First M.E. Church, said yesterday in a sermon on "Jesus and the War System."

A noted champion of peace, Doctor Goddard declared one of the most dangerous potential causes of war involving the United States is our system of military preparedness as a means of national defense.

The pastor held that military preparedness "in our day and time is no guarantee of prosperity or even continued existence." He even said that Germany as an example in point, stating that Hitler and Mussolini and their militarists are "leading their nations toward a cataclysm that will be the end of the present government."

Chances to Become Leader

Doctor Goddard said America "has a great opportunity today to blaze a new pathway and become a leader among nations in the development of a social order" by "activities and measures for perfecting of the principles of democracy and the destruction of all forces that lead toward a dictatorship of any kind. That means we will cling to the fundamental principles of our Constitution."

He added that war nullifies these principles of human rights for which Jesus of Nazareth stood.

Musings Attend in Body

At the evening service Doctor Goddard spoke on "Christianity and Brotherhood." His audience was made up of members of the M.E. church and other religious groups, who attended in a body.

"Brotherhood shines brightest when it operates among the people of different races and different nationalities," the pastor said. "Brotherly love among one's own kind is not near so great an achievement as when it operates across the border lines of nations and races."

'Was Friend of God'

He declared that money and power are not lasting means of happiness and said they cannot serve as a substitute for religion, which "gives courage, confidence and happiness."

Bishop Duffy said Mussolini realized the power of religion to maintain morale among his soldiers in Ethiopia. He declared that the Duke enlisted every regiment have a chaplain and that Marx be said each morning during the campaign.

RAMS OVERCOME ROCKIES TO GET LEAGUE HONORS

Finish Season Without Defeat—Rangers Also Score Victory

Rome—Rams overcame the Rockies 6-0 on Terry Griffin's two-yard plunge over the final stripe three minutes before the final whistle to clinch Copper City Football League championship at Franklin's Field yesterday afternoon.

In the other game of the double-header the Rams defeated the Eagles 7-0. Over 100 persons attended the twin bill attraction. The Rams will be presented a handsome trophy at the end of the season by the Utica Daily Press.

Three times during the first half the Blue and White penetrated deep into Rockies' territory but were unable to score. An intercepted pass by Griffin late in the final period on the Rockies' 17 paved the way for the touchdown mark. Aided by a forced pass, Griffin's Willie, the Rams drove to the two-yard marker where, after two unsuccessful line thrusts, Griffin finally found his way through right tackle for the only score. Platt went 60 yards to cross the Rockies' final stripe just before the whistle but the play was nullified by an off-side penalty.

The Eagles and Rams battled on even terms throughout the game and the only score occurred in the third period when Hinton, intercepting an aerial, raced 55 yards to the Eagles' goal.

The schedule will be completed next Sunday with Panthers opposing the Eagles and the Rockies meeting the Rams at Franklin's Field. The Rams will automatically draw a forfeit from the Challengers which dropped out of the league.
